Question 1

Read the passage below and answer the questions which follow.

Fifi and her beloved teddy bear, Jim, were best friends. They played together. One Saturday morning, when Fifi looked for Jim to play with, she could not find him anywhere. Her heart was filled with worry.

Fifi first looked under her bed. Then, she looked behind the sofa. She even searched for Jim in the kitchen cupboards but Jim was still missing. Tears welled up in her eyes. She ran to her family for help. Her father checked the living room while her elder brother searched the backyard. Even her little sister joined in, trying to find Jim with determination. However, despite their combined efforts, Jim could not be seen anywhere.

Fifi sat on the edge of her bed. Knowing that Fifi was sad, her mother sat beside her and gave her a comforting hug. "Let's check your room one more time," she suggested gently. Although Fifi had already searched for Jim there, she agreed to look for him in her room. She hoped that she would find Jim.

They started by carefully checking Fifi's wardrobe, moving through her shelves and drawers, but still, no sign of Jim. Finally, as her mother lifted the blanket on Fifi's bed, a small brown paw peeked out. There, she found Jim sleeping comfortably under the blanket. Fifi was now relieved and very happy.

"Oh, Jim! I was so worried about you!" she exclaimed. She hugged her friend tightly. She promised Jim that she would be more careful and make sure that he would never get lost again.

From that day on, Fifi kept a watchful eye on Jim. She made sure that Jim was always safe and sound. Fifi had learnt her lesson of taking care of those she loved. And so, Jim and Fifi continued their adventures, inseparable and happier than ever.
