Question 2B (20 marks)Read the text below.

Yesterday, at about four in the afternoon, a serious accident occurred on the main road in Bambous. Mrs Rita Brown was riding her bicycle when suddenly a small girl crossed the road in front of her. In order to avoid the child, Mrs Brown swerved to her left and fell heavily on the pavement. She lay there for a few minutes. When she tried to get up, she could not move her leg.

At that very moment, two children, Pierre and Julie Dubois, were coming round the corner and saw what had happened. They immediately ran to help Mrs Brown. Pierre went to the nearest house and asked the people in the house to phone for an ambulance. His sister Julie stayed with the lady and comforted her. She had learnt first aid at school. She was sure Mrs Brown's leg was broken and did not allow anybody to move her.

The ambulance arrived in about 15 minutes and Mrs Brown was taken to the hospital. When she came out of hospital, she thanked the children for their help.
