Question 2B (20 marks)

Puppies for Sale

A farmer had some puppies to sell. He made a poster advertising the puppies and put it on the fence. As he was going inside, he felt someone pulling at his shirt. It was a little boy. He looked at the farmer and said timidly:

“I want to buy one of your puppies.”

“Well,” said the farmer, “these puppies are quite expensive. Do you have money?”

The boy looked disappointed for a moment. Then he put his hand into his pocket and pulled out a handful of coins. “I’ve only got fifty rupees. Will that be enough?” he asked the farmer.

The farmer thought for a while. He could see how much the boy wanted a puppy. Therefore, he whistled and called, “Come here Dolly!”

Dolly ran out of the dog house followed by four puppies. The little boy’s eyes danced with delight on seeing them and he waited excitedly for them to come near him. But, as the dogs ran towards them, the little boy saw another puppy behind. This one was smaller and was running towards the others with some difficulty.

“I want that one,” the little boy said, pointing to the last puppy.

The farmer knelt down beside the boy and said, “Son, do you really want that puppy? He will never be able to run and play with you like the others. You can have any other puppy you want.”

On hearing that, the little boy pulled up one leg of his trousers to reveal a specially made shoe. He had had an accident a few months ago and could not walk properly.

He told the farmer, “I don’t run too well myself. The puppy will need someone who understands.” When he heard that, the farmer felt quite sad. He smiled kindly and gave the puppy to the boy without taking his money.
