Question 2B (20 marks)

Read the text below.

The Titanic is one of the most famous ships of all time. It was a very big ship. People called it the 'Floating Palace' as it had every possible luxury, including a heated swimming pool.

In April 1912 the Titanic left England for its first voyage to America. It had many famous and rich people on board. For the first few days of the trip, the passengers felt like they were on holiday. They spent their time walking around and enjoying the ship's fine food. But all that changed on Sunday 14 April 1912. As the Titanic was crossing the Atlantic Ocean, it received nine warnings from other ships about the presence of icebergs. However, the captain of the Titanic did not pay attention to these messages.

Then, just before midnight, one of the ship's officers saw a large, dark object in the water. He rang the alarm bell and shouted, "Iceberg right ahead!" The captain reacted quickly. He slowed down the ship and tried to turn left, away from the iceberg. But it was too late. The side of the Titanic hit the iceberg and the icy sea water started getting into the ship quickly. The captain knew that the ship would sink in less than two hours.

Most of the passengers were asleep when the alarm was raised. Worse, there were not enough lifeboats for all the passengers. Many people would die if a rescue ship did not arrive fast. Unfortunately, the nearest ship, the 'Carpathia', was 90 kms away. It would need four hours to reach the Titanic. In the panic, many of the lifeboats were lowered into the sea without being full. After the ship sank, hundreds of people struggled to survive in the icy cold water. That night the ocean was -2°C, a temperature that can cause death in 15 minutes. In the end, only 705 passengers, out of a total of 2228, survived.

The world was shocked by this tragedy. Measures were taken to make sure that such a thing never happened again. Laws were passed to ensure that all ships had enough lifeboats for everyone on board. A new system was created to warn ships about icebergs.

Circle the correct answer for questions 1-8.
