

Instructions to Candidates

Preparatory work

You should select one question for this component. You may discuss your choice with your Art & Design Educator at the beginning of the preparatory period for advice on materials and processes to explore. You must carry out your own research, planning and investigation of ideas to develop your own personal response under the guidance of your Educator.

In addition to the work you produce during the assessment, you should submit your preparatory work. Your preparatory work should not exceed more than three sheets of A3 size paper (recto only).

Your preparatory work should show how you have developed your ideas and attempted different outcomes during the preparatory period. You have at least 4 weeks' preparation time for your preparatory work.

You must bring your preparatory work on the day of the assessment so that you can refer to it during the assessment. You must not add or edit your preparatory work once the assessment begins.

You may start your preparatory work as soon as you receive this pre-released material.

On the day of the assessment

The assessment will take place under examination conditions.

Your preparatory work should support the final artwork that you produce during the assessment.

Your preparatory work must be attached to the final artwork and submitted together. All work must be clearly labelled with your index number and the number of your chosen question at the top right-hand corner of each sheet of paper.

The preparatory work and the final work will be marked together out of a total of 80 marks.
